

Summer Funding for International Internships in Population and Reproductive Health

Call for Applications for 2009

The Fred H. Bixby Program in Population and Reproductive Health will be funding selected UCLA School of Public Health students for summer internships in international population and reproductive health during summer 2009. Arrangements for your internship must already be made with the organization with which you will work. Your internship must be outside the United States and focus on family planning, reproductive health (including AIDS), or population and environment. Students from any department at UCLA SPH are eligible. No previous international experience is required.

Applications for internship funding should be 4-5 pages maximum and should include:

- A complete description of the internship and the organization with which you plan to work (including what you will be doing, the dates you will be there)
- A letter or email from your proposed preceptor stating that she or he will be supervising you during the period stated, and giving contact information (this can be attached to the email application)
- A description of any relevant coursework, including your GPA to date at UCLA/SPH
- A budget showing the amount of funding you need (maximum $3500) and what you plan to use it for.
- The name, phone number, and e-mail address of your faculty advisor
- A brief description of your post-UCLA/SPH career plans and any other information relevant to your application (e.g., language skills)

Students receiving funding will be featured in on the Bixby Program website upon their return (<http://bixbyprogram.ph.ucla.edu>). They are required to submit 3-5 photographs from their field site and a brief (2 page) statement on their internship (suitable for use on the website) by October 15, 2009. Students will also be expected to make a brief presentation on their internship experience during a tea for the funders and others in the fall of 2009.

Applications are due by 4pm on Tuesday, May 5, 2008 and should be sent to Rachel Veerman c/o rveerman@soc.ucla.edu. Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please write "Application for Summer Funding" in the subject line. Decisions will be made and applicants notified by May 20, 2009.
