Women’s Health, Emergency Contraception and the FDA

by Susan Wood, PhD

Dr. Wood is the former Assistant Commissioner for Women's Health at the Food and Drug Administration where she directed the FDA Office of Women's Health. In August, 2005, she resigned on principle in response to the decision announced by FDA leadership to once again delay approval of Plan B emergency contraception, despite the recommendation of FDA scientific staff.

Tuesday, February 7th, 2006
5:00pm - 6:00pm
UCLA Gonda Building
First Floor Conference Room